April 12, 2018

To whom it may concern:

Members of the George Wiley Center request the Rhode Island Public Utilities Commission to extend the winter moratorium to May 1, 2018 for utility consumers (both gas and electric) who reside in Rhode Island. We seek this extension due to the continued cold weather, with snow falling only last week and with frost continuing until May, and combined with burdens of increased financial debt and economic hardships.

Sincerely,

Camilo Viveiros
Coordinator
George Wiley Center
