Request 1-3:

Based on the response to PUC 1-2.a, if the answer is “before”, how will Good Energy and Central Falls project the participation and load requirements of each of the products for the solicitation? -

Response

Following an order from the Commission approving the aggregation plan, National Grid will make available to Good Energy anonymous customer specific usage data, including ICAP tags, in order to develop the bidding documents for suppliers. In the solicitation, Good Energy and Barrington will make all of this data available to the suppliers. This will allow suppliers to have the fullest information possible to reduce risk premiums. Suppliers will use their own modeling to make projections for participation in each of the products available

Request 1-9

Has Central Falls or Good Energy confirmed (through that a customer can opt out of the municipal aggregation program by contacting National Grid directly (as opposed to the energy supplier)?

Response:

Once a customer is enrolled with a third-party supplier, including an aggregation, that customer can call the National Grid call center and ask to be returned to Standard Offer Service. Before a customer is enrolled in an aggregation, however, National Grid cannot process an opt out, as the customer is still on Standard Offer Service.
